

Friday, June 20, 2025

Bio for Wholewellness Coaching Platform Profile

Name (as you would like to appear for clients) Heather Culpepper

Your coaching Motto or Tagline

THE EMBODIED LIFE

Over the past 30 years of working with people, I have discovered for myself and others that true wellness comes from the embodied integration of heart, mind, body, and spirit.

"The art of living well is a life lived with joy, playfulness, and meaningful relationships. It's a reality lived with your 5 senses-with warmth and connection. It's about the inner peace and core stability that makes you create a truly magical and fulfilling life." Richard Rudd

Specialty Areas (divorce coaching, financial coaching, mindset, relationship, etc). List all that applies

General Health and Wellness
HumanDesign and Gene keys
Mindfulness and contemplation practices
Pilates
Therapeutic yoga
Somatic practices
Jungian Based Inquiry Work
Nutrition

Coaching Eperience 30 years

Education & Certifications (Degree, Certification, Training Program, Relevant Professional Credentials, Additional Courses, or Workshops Attended)

Master's of Physical therapy, certified pilates instructor, 200 RYT Yoga teacher, therapeutic yoga ,Human Design coaching ,Center for applied Jungian Studies, tai chi, functional nutrition, myofascial release, cransiosacral therapy

Professional Background (Brief summary of past roles, industries, or key expertise that enhance coaching ability)

I have worked in Physical therapy and coaching across the life span, working with infants and their families in Early Intervention and the school setting. I have worked with Home Health and palliative care clients and their families to work through end of life goals. I have also worked in my own private practice utilizing a holistic and integrative approach to wellness and healing. I have hosted workshops and classes on various topics for whole body wellness and embodiment.

Any additional information you would like to share with your clients.

I myself have navigated a divorce and remarriage. I understand what it is to work through infertility issues, extensive life/family challenges, moving and job changes. I enjoy helping clients return home to themselves, with skills that allow them to thrive as their fully embodied selves.

Please attach your professional photo to be displayed on your profile at Wholewellness Coaching Platform